What is JPSubtitles? JPSubtitles is a videos search engine focused on legal video files with subtitle. We do not host any subtitle file nor do we run JPSubtitles.com Search API search function. What do you mean? We mean that we try our best to find all available videos with a given keyword, when you request a video with subtitles, we search different subtitle sources as Google, OpenSubtitles, SubRip, and JPSubtitles and so on. We really appreciate if you send us a bug report if you find any video which should be replaced. Please use Contact option and let us know the problem you've found with the requested video.

How to find videos? Simply type a keyword related to the content of your interest or upload a text file with a list of related keywords in this area separated by a comma or by typing - for example - video "name of your keyword" - will show all videos containing your keyword. Copy or write down the link and hit enter to go to JPSubtitles. You will see a page like this: Remove space between video and year. Find a video related to a movie or an anime and copy the video URL shown on the image below. In this example, you need to remove space between video and year. Choose the video language and click on the arrow. Select the subtitles if you need them. Download the file and save on your computer if you wish to watch it later. If it's an anime episode, you can download all subtitles in OAR format. Here you have the number
