When the black powder grenade is thrown it has an image of a grenade on the ground. This image is splash damage and the graphic shows what you have to do to mark it as splash damage. Will that image cause splash damage or will it only cause blast damage. The text says "only shoot to blow the enemy up". A: If it's not an expert shot, the bullet will just hit and the explosion is just a simple detonate effect instead of the splash damage. If you shoot on the half black spot, you'll get the splash effect, otherwise just the bullet hit. (Source: experience on Xbox) ATIUS (Clothed Antioquian in the United States and South America; Puerto Rican Criollo), a native of Antioquia, died at New York, October 3d, 1843. A statue of this person, in the form of a young woman, was put up in the court-house, for the purpose of helping his widow, and the statue was removed in 1880, on account of its being decayed and the fact that the representation of a woman in that position would be considered degrading to her.
