A: TL:DR We are currently working on updating our forum. You can read more about this here. Until then, here's the solution. Uninstall [adobe-photoshop-cs6-65.windows.0] from your computer. Uncheck the box "Reinstall" in the uninstallation wizard. Go to your C:\Program Files (x86) directory and delete the folder Adobe Creative Cloud. Download and run it. Once the process is completed you will be prompted to restart your computer. Download the tool from and follow the instructions. Download the tool from and click "Download". Confirm the file and double-click to launch the software. (Delete the file once you are done). Enter your serial number, click NEXT. It will ask you to ENTER THE PATH TO THE KEY, enter the path to the key (i.e. C:\Documents and Settings\[My Username]\Application Data\Adobe\Adobe Photoshop CS6) for Photoshop CS6. Click OK. Click NEXT. You will be prompted to DECRYPT THE KEY. As of right now, we have NO idea how to decrypt it. You will have to seek help on how to encrypt and decrypt in a different setting. Click NEXT and continue the installation. Click INSTALL NOW and you should be done! If you are still having issues, please comment below and we will be glad to help you. Adding some specifics: Just to clarify, if you have multiple Photoshop installations, you have to enter the path to the key for each individual installation. Additionally, you can't register Photoshop in an online store like Adobe and allow the serial number generator to decrypt it. I'm still unable to decrypt it, all I know about it is that I did read a guide on how to encrypt the key in a different software and decrypt it in Photoshop. Here it is: If this is correct 3e33713323
