Freel Autopano Giga.F1 and Formula Trucking F1 and Formula Trucking (from 1992 to 2004: Team Garry Built Racing) is a team from Queensland, Australia involved in the Australasian Championship of Motor Sport (ACAMS), which runs as a support series to the Australian Touring Car Championship. The team was started by Garry Garry, the then owner of the Banana Wreckers business, based at Ipswich, Queensland, with James Ward as their driver. Garry Garry intended for the team to be an outlet for road-relevant cars rather than a full blown factory team. Ward left the team after two years and was replaced by Queensland racer David Rigley. This formulae changed when Garry Garry sold the team to a new owner
