Most notably, a tornado struck El Reno, Okla., about 40 minutes south of Tulsa, on March 5, injuring at least two people and damaging two homes in the town of about 35,000 residents. The tornado reportedly destroyed an entire subdivision. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration reported the tornado touched down at 9:40 p.m. CST and remained on the ground for 60 miles, the longest-lived tornado of 2011. Joplin recorded a preliminary peak wind speed of 180 mph — equivalent to a Category 5 hurricane — and winds were clocked at an estimated 300-350 mph. The blustery weather has been associated with a stretch of cold fronts in the southern plains, which has begun to push into the plains this Game companies are always looking for new ways to immerse players into their games. With the rise of mobile gaming, companies have gotten creative with new ways to take advantage of the ability to consume content anytime, anywhere. In Faerie Solitaire's case, they took the core of a card game and applied them to another genre, while making some changes to make the experience unique. Rather than dealing with the intricacies of a game's rule set, which usually requires hours of studying the ins and outs of each mechanic, the players have to deal with mysterious creatures that dwell in the dark and who seek out the light for their enjoyment. But there's more to these ghostly denizens than a hunger for a living soul. In Faerie Solitaire Dire, the player will be immersed in their role as an assistant to the great Lady of the depths. She will guide and advise them on the many missions at hand in order to get a glimpse of the heart of the Dire, their mysterious source. Throughout the game, the player will encounter 8 different missions. They will come under fierce resistance from the Dire and must balance the scales between the two. The player has the option to choose from a variety of light sources, which can cast light or cause shadows to darken the place or to bless it. Light and shadow can also be used to expose cards and reveal secrets. You can also work with the full force of the Dire and open gates using Tarot cards. Each set of cards can help you reveal more of the Dire's secrets. Players can also deal with curses and do their best to free trapped souls. They do so by using God Cards. Each God Card features a different set of Powers and Abilities. Some can break curses, some can be used as a blessing. Some help you kill curses and some help you find more, and save more souls. But they all have their limitations. In order to rid the world of the Dire, each player can choose one of their cards to put on the Overlay, which creates the conditions for each of the Divine Cards. This gives players a variety of reactions and effects depending on which God Card they have put on the Overlay. The player's ability to perform these acts can also be enhanced by elements such as salt and bone.
