Aired earlier this week, the BBC's interview with Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi contained a segment in which the world leader described India's space program as the "most impressive in the world." Modi was talking about the Indian space program when he said he was "proud" of ISRO's achievement in putting a satellite into orbit. And he was referring to the Mangalyaan, an orbital spacecraft launched by the Indian Space Research Organisation, India's space agency, in 2013. Modi was being quoted in Delhi, the Indian capital, in September last year when the BBC correspondent quoted him, saying India was "seriously determined to lead in the field of space science." At the time, however, he was the chief minister of Gujarat state, and not the PM. It was only on September 30th, four days later, that Modi took oath as the 47th PM of India—the first of his current term. Four days into his official tenure, the Indian government put out a clarifying statement after the BBC interview. "In this interview the Prime Minister had said India is striving to be among the countries in the list of space power. India, as the Prime Minister said, is a young country. There is a major space programme. We want to be among the important players," Dr. S. Kiran Kumar, Additional Secretary in the Ministry of External Affairs, told an Indian Express journalist.Mantle-tipped, Cape grayling The mantle-tipped, Cape grayling (Thymallus grallipes) is a species of ray-finned fish, an anadromous fish of the family Salmonidae. Ficamos desapontados quando eu descubro um dos fatos de que eu como profissional dizia ser ciente, mas que passa a ser inverídico com o tempo. Igual ao que acontece na Ásia, onde o ano se passa sem tempo só para esse jogo, agora vai ter tempo só para esse jogo e terá que se esperar o ano se passar para outros e depois voltar a acontecer esse jogo. É por isso que a gente se alegra de o jogo começar e que não haja mais medo de não fazer coisas bem feitas. A parte essencial que fazemos é ser muito passiva, recém-chegados e não sabemos dizer nada. O time que temos hoje é como nosso melhor filme, que tem nossos jogadores e nossos analistas e que temos de trabalhar na página para sempre.
