Markup Assist, available in AutoCAD 2020 and earlier, will now do more! The latest version of the markup assistant now has: Modify review tools that are available while navigating a drawing When reviewing a section or layer of a drawing, automatically navigate to the next section or layer of a drawing Also, Markup Assist can now review 2D and 3D views within a BIM/VVI/HMI/GIS model. Easier Drawing Sharing: Share a design with colleagues using the new email export function, or with mobile apps and websites. You can now share drawings with colleagues who use another CAD program, without having to save the drawing to a.DWG file first. In the latest release of AutoCAD, you can now do this: If you are sharing a drawing from within the drawing, you can even leave it open on your desktop. Drawing Editor Improvements: Support for dimensionally accurate text New commands to apply text-positioning properties to a line (transforms, offsets, etc.) The change-move (C) command now supports arrowheads for line caps. For example, when you press C before pressing the Direction Key, you can use the arrowheads to change the direction of the line in edit mode.
