The runner will move past them. They will always be the last one off the field. They will always be the first one off the bench. They will never see a map of the USA that doesn't include their neighborhood. They will never play for the Olympics. Black Baseball players always think they're the best. About Us About Us: The Ultimate Mission: to work with passionate individuals with a single purpose: to help and honor God by sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ through the scriptures, and through Word, Teaching, and Service. The Potential Impact: The estimated number of people who will die as a result of the natural course of aging: Between 20,000 and 40,000 *per day The estimated number of people who will be saved for all eternity *Note: Either way, the number will be significantly less than the number who will die without Christ as their Savior. The Vision: It is not that we desire to be an overly influential organization (we are in almost every way a small ministry). Instead, we desire to impact as many people as we can while we are here. It is why we are open to hear from all people about all things. The process is not to for us to influence people with our organization, but to influence people within our organization to be a stronger witness of the gospel. Every year, we want to lay the foundation for the year to come with the right mindset. We want to be our best every day. How to be a Part of this Organization: As a Student Ministry, we are looking for those who know God, have a desire to serve the Lord, and have the drive to grow in those areas.Manual transmission car door locks are known in the art. For example, U.S. Pat. No. 4,805,915 (Goodrich) discloses such a door lock. The door lock includes a manually actuatable solenoid plunger which drives a pinion through a set of rack teeth which engage the gear teeth on a shaft and is pivotable about the shaft to correspondingly move the door relative to the door frame. The pinion also engages a ring gear to control the rotational movement of a pawl which is engaged with the door to prevent the door from being opened. A drive gear is attached to the pinion and is driven by the solenoid plunger to drive the pinion through the rack teeth. A connection mechanism is required to connect the drive gear to the solenoid plunger to rotate the pinion in response to a movement of the solenoid plunger. Also, the relatively large solenoid plunger must be of such a size as to be able to handle the forces

Q: Ruby - How to respond to ERB in HTML format? To render the ERB file with the following, 'something' %> you simply call it like so, render :file => " Problem is, my master ERB looks like this: { :thing => @thing } %> Erb doesn't care for the I18n stuff. How can I convert that in to something that will work for the erb rendering? I can use :locals => { :thing => @thing, :something => :something else } but still need to call :file. I'll probably have to add methods to my controller? A: You should just be able to do: render :template =>'something', :layout => false I think it should work, but I've not tested it. In any case, see here: Tag Archives: creative I have been trying to organize my pictures I have been taking recently. The inspiration for this project came from “blog post by blog” by Megan Morrisette. Go check it out! It’s really interesting. It’s hard to tell from the picture, but I have switched up the colored paper. I like how it looks, but it’s been awhile since I tried anything differently. So I feel like I should be naming a product. Maybe I’ll get to do that in the near future. Have you heard of Dysart Smooth? I’ve been running out of it lately. It’s the same color as the MME Rapid Dry. This project involves three components: paper, aluminum, and paint. I thought I would share the process on how I painted a coffe table. The Table Coffe First, I turned the table frame into one flat piece of aluminum. I used a hammer and a wide piece of metal to remove unwanted stock. Next, I got to choosing the paper for the background. I had to get a backing piece for the front (pictured below). I chose to paint the
