/5 This week on the Soundtrack 1/5 vlog, I give my thoughts and verdict on the Touhou BSC2 tracklist. It's not the worst tracklist I've ever seen, but that's really not saying a lot since I haven't seen the tracklist in advance. In fact, if you want to check out my review of the first volume, you can visit episode 25! This review will focus on more unique aspects of the music of Touhou BSC2. In this series of posts, I will go over:- The music - which is composed by Junpei Shiina (who also did Virtua Fighter Revenge's soundtrack)+ The song names - as well as unique information about each song, namely:- The Konami Code in the song names + And to top it off? A song you might recognize in this soundtrack! While all of these posts are pretty short, I take a much greater amount of time explaining each song in this segment and will explain songs more in depth in my other reviews of Touhou Music Potions and the series Touhou BSC1. Check back for more in next week's Soundtrack 1/5, coming soon! Touhou BSC2 - Ready to Battle with Uchuu Hyakkei (Opening 1)- Check out my review of Touhou Music Potion 1 - Kami-sama no Uta for a closer look at the track listing. In the comments, based on what I've already seen in Touhou BSC2, let's sum up the nominations for this segment by the bitrate of the tracks on some of the songs: Cool - 96 Kb/s Awesome - 128 Kb/s Excellent - 204 Kb/s Excellent - 320 Kb/s The first song on the soundtrack is "Uchuu Hyakkei" +. This song is a combination of four separate tracks but I have rounded them to the nearest 5 minutes. The track duration is very long at a total of 67:41. All four tracks are 90BPM, but each song is based off of a different rhythm. Track 1: It all starts out slow. I'm not going to run through the whole song (space limitation), but you can go here for a Youtube video of the entire song. Stream it, or click on "View previous" and pick it to hear it in the order
