Movie report: 'It was a hard day for many of us' 'It was a hard day for many of us' 'It was a hard day for many of us' Posted on 30 March, 2018 Standing at the front of a small crowd of hundreds of people, Michael was as proud and powerful as a champion prizefighter. Even though he had a prosthetic leg, Michael's booming voice and commanding presence kept his audience on their toes as he spoke about the alleged attack on him last week. After months of waiting to find out where that attack occurred, Michael finally got to tell us — at a packed Mormon Church in Gypsum, Utah. When Michael arrived at the Gypsum Utah Temple last Saturday, he was shocked to hear that the place where he used to pray for an answer to his situation — asking for Heavenly Father's help to find out what had happened — was the same place his alleged attacker lived. "It was pretty scared. I could hear him inside that I was being watched by that man," he said. "As I was leaving the building, he (the attacker) was following me. It was scary. I was happy to be in a quiet place." Michael described the attack as a "physical assault" that involved violence and use of a weapon. "I got hit on the left side, the right side, on my leg. It was painful, but I didn't think it was a life-threatening wound. I had to go to the hospital," Michael said.
