The HSE has made a number of substantial amendments to weld guidance and procedures. The amendments extend the scope of the regulations to cover the gas tungsten arc, plasma arc and high velocity plasma welding methods. CWI takes the regulations seriously and will work to comply with the guideline amendments. The CWI has also developed a standard examination for welding inspectors. Suitable candidates are invited to submit an application for certification as a CWI Welding Inspector after having successfully completed the CSWIP Welding Inspector qualification on a course that meets the necessary pre-requisites and is approved by the CSWIP. These courses have to be arranged by a welding inspectorate and held on a regular basis. All applications must be submitted at least 2 months prior to the date of the examination. The questions in the examinations are derived from all the knowledge acquired during the training and will determine whether a candidate passes or fails a test. A candidate passes the test if he/she answers correctly at least 80% of the multiple choice questions. A candidate failing the test must resit the examination within 6 months from the date of his/her first examination. This examination is for those interested in the non-destructive testing aspects of pipeline integrity and corrosion including visual inspection, surface examination and metallurgical testing. However, candidate should note that on successful completion of this examination and/or the required training to apply for the qualification the candidate will be issued with an instrument specific registration number for use in the workplace as proof of compliance with the applicable statutory provision and the regulations including the CWI Welding Inspector Standard.
