Mouse Extender Crack Free

1) With this feature, you can assign mouse buttons to a hotkey. Easy and quick to use, pressing a key combination (hotkey) will automatically simulate mouse actions (e.g. click, drag, scroll, etc). Mouse settings are saved in the registry and you can use it for all your future logins. 2) Let you customize your Mouse Extension, assigning hotkeys to mouse buttons (middle click, right click, scroll lock, etc). You can also create groups, in order to organize your mouse buttons in a logical way. 3) Make your personal Mouse Extension - save its settings (mouse buttons, hotkeys, mouse settings) to the registry, allowing you to use them in the future logins. Please note: 1) If you assign a hotkey to a Mouse button, the button will be "hidden" for the time being. It will reappear if you press the same key combination again. 2) If you try to assign a key combination to a Mouse button which already has a hotkey, the Mouse button will be reset to its default value (middle click). 3) You can add multiple hotkeys to the same button. 4) By default, each hotkey will emulate the last mouse action performed (e.g. clicking, dragging, scrolling, etc.). This can be changed via the Mouse Settings window (see below). 5) Mouse settings are saved in the registry, so you can easily share the same Mouse Extension with other users. 6) The Mouse Extension is saved in the system path - you can easily export it, so that you can use it on other computers. 7) You can store the mouse buttons' last actions in the registry for a long time (key "Last Mouse Button Action"). 8) You can create groups - inside of which, you can organize the mouse buttons (without modifying their behavior - mouse buttons will be assigned to the group for the time being). 9) Mouse extensions can be shared. 10) You can save Mouse Extensions in the registry - you can easily export them, so that you can share them with other users. Mouse Settings window: Right click on the Mouse Extension, select Mouse Settings to access the window. 1) Assign a hotkey to a Mouse button: (Select a button from the list below) 2) Assign the Mouse button to the last mouse action performed (click, middle click, right click, scroll lock, etc.) 3 2edc1e01e8
