One of the major advantages of using Remotus is the ability to perform most of the restoration and maintenance work on our own computers. No matter whether you do this yourself or hire a technician. Restoring your own computer is as easy as removing the cap of the hard drive. Simply follow the instructions on this page to prepare your computer for the restoration process. Make sure that you have a restore tool installed and you have a backup of the boot sector. The boot sector contains the boot code that tells the computer how to start the operating system. You can do the same process yourself or hire a technician to do the restoration for you. However, if you would like to hire us, you can still use this page. All of the information you need is on this page, including full instructions.
